Headline:
Dry with brightening skies.

Today:
Rather cloudy through the morning with sunny spells becoming more widespread by the afternoon. Staying dry throughout with the northwesterly breeze becoming light as the day progresses. Feeling pleasant in the sunshine. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Tonight:
A dry and chilly night for most with long clear spells and some mist or fog developing by dawn. Cloudier in the far west with some patchy rain for Pembrokeshire. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Sunday:
Early mist and fog will clear through the morning to leave a dry day with sunny spells, especially through the afternoon. Likely staying cloudy in the far west. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Rather cloudy on Monday and Tuesday with a little light rain at times, brighter spells in-between as well as some early mist and fog. A sunnier day on Wednesday.
